

Do Not Believe Your Thoughts

IMANUEL spoke these words:

„The earth is in the grip of the Light. A firm cloak closes around the globe so as to prevent the darkness from escaping. The pressure increases evermore tightly squeezing all evil so that cycle upon cycles of all happenings must close and the end is connected to the beginning. Light spears and Light arrows buzz about, Light swords flash and Lucifer's minions are pressed hard until they are annihilated.

Holy victory to the Light here on earth! It is God's Almighty Will. Light will be everywhere even amongst all the errors of humanity so that they will now recognize the Truth.-“

This is what you read even today in the Word of IMANUEL (Lecture: „Beauty of the Peoples“, Grail Message 1941.

For you, however, He anchored in addition these words of the same lecture, in the Resonances to the Grail Message 1934:

“Rejoice, small flock, you who have been chosen to contribute to the immeasurably great work in the power of the Highest! Your time will come much sooner than you think today; for some day it will come unexpectedly and overnight! Be strong in perseverance and, as if automatically, the fruits which you are to savor in joyful working as the chosen children of your Lord, will be yours! The power which HE conveys to you will protect you in your tribulation and will lift you to the purest joy which human spirits are capable of feeling.

For you the world Judgment will bring the crown instead of perdition, a work-filled, peaceful new life under the protection of the Holy Grail which you wish to serve with joyful volition in the upbuilding by God here on earth, by helping all people, who in true humility attune themselves to the primordial laws of Creation! In the New Kingdom your spirits will be able to swing strongly above all materiality, causing it to be beautified and bathed in the Light. –

The outcome after the purification is a strengthening and blossoming of the loyal ones; because all that is obstructive will be thrown off according to the Divine Law, even if it howls against the sifting, calling it unjust! The Light and thereby Justice will ruthlessly smash the intellectual sophistries which deceptively ensnare the originators themselves, so that in their thoughts they actually imagine themselves to be right even when they act wrongly.

The bearers of my power will succeed in cutting off these shackles with the sword of pure volition as long as they keep it sharp-edged in the service to humanity and all of Creation!" – Thus spoke IMANUEL

These words were proclaimed almost 80 years ago and were meant to announce Light happenings on earth, but a condition of inertia delayed everything. You will ask yourselves why they are addressed to you today.

Hear then what is now proclaimed to you:

The period of standstill is now past and you are standing in the climax of the acceleration whereby the earth is re-integrated into the promised happening. You are on earth to recognize when the time has come for you to finally take up your position. Only then can these words be addressed to you once again. They are of equal importance as the once fateful words:

„If you fail the world will fall“

But first you must cleanse yourselves and rid yourselves of the false „Ego“.

The „Ego“, a deceptive feeling

The statement „Do not believe your thoughts“ is meant to be a warning for the human spirit to be careful not to leave the intellect in control. However, it seems that for a long time already this danger has no longer been the worst pitfall on the path to the origin of his „being“.

For a long time already an evil has been creeping in among human beings which appears to be far more dangerous and devastating than the absolute control of the intellect.

With new cunning the darkness conveys to you an increased but false self-consciousness.

This is the reason for the warning: „Do not trust your feelings for they are deceptive“! This danger keeps growing and now has a far greater influence on man on earth binding him but also using in the denseness of this world him as transmitter of the neutral energy to which only he has access in the denseness of this world.

In the same way that the intellect, because of the indolence of the spirit , was able to conquer a throne to which it has no right, feeling placed itself above the intuition to an even much higher degree

Putting pressure on human feeling Lucifer's minions very adaptly recaptured much of their influence after the Light had already gained influence among humanity by putting Lucifer in chains.

Through feeling the „ego“ has mutated into an unintended species which is now dominated by vanity.

In the current distinction made between two types of character, i.e. the rational man of intellect and the more emotional type, it is unlikely that anyone is aware of the fundamental fact that in both cases the same basic evil is involved.

Now the rational type is mostly viewed as being heartless and cold since he is apparently able to control his feelings with his intellect. The other type , on the other hand, believes with supposedly devout wistfulness , to have higher inner values. Quite frequently these people are heard complaining about being forever misunderstood . They attribute heir extreme vulnerability to this circumstance and would like to build a protective wall around it with their know-it-all intellect. They are the ones of whom it is is often said that they are too good for this world since they are far too sensitive for this time.

However , what is really hidden behind this?

These people first judge everything according to what they temselves feel. They then briefly involve the intellect and are proud of the fact that in the end they give more room to their feeling and allow humanitarianism to have the upper hand. This in itself would not be wrong if their spirit were involved. However, there lies the problem. In everything they see only their own perception as felt by them.

These people are seldom able to focus on what actually happens preferring to form their own truth to which they cling tenaciously and which they try to defend by any means. To this end they use grandiose quotes, mostly out of context, so as to fit them into their own opinion. Of course, they concede the same right to others, as a sign of their tolerance, unless the other's opinion does not fit into theirs, in which case they turn away with pity and often highhandedly. They are never aware that their concession only serves as a protective shield to create tolerance for their own behaviour.

Such a person can never put himself in the position of his opponent and if he tries to do so he will always only recognize his own inclinations, that is he will never leave his own „ego“.

Statements such as „I always want only what is best“ or „I'm not thinking of myself“ are frequently on their lips. The actual motivation behind it is not recognized. Even if there is some good in what they spread about this is for the most part only earthly and rarely has any spiritual value. Very rarely does anybody realize the fact that these persons in particular are focused exclusively on themselves. They hold up the shield of their high-handed tolerance.

The presumptuous conviction presented by some that they are of the highest spiritual origin or at least that they are in contact with highest levels is characteristic for this type of person .

Deep down they are merely the most arrogant egocentrics with an exaggerated pride in their intellect.

But, as far as anything is still able to penetrate their obstinacy, they know deep down that their nature is not genuine and from time to time they are overcome by despair which could be their only means of salvation. But instead of listening up they believe their environment is to blame for their malaise.

Their high handed vanity is so predominant that they have completely lost sight of any consistency and logic .Only too often they escape into some illusion and will act only dogmatically on the basis of their feelings. If they are religious they love using their prophets or even Jesus Christ himself as a protective shield for their own opinion. They do the same with the Grail Message even after initially having recognized it as the Truth.

„Be watchful so as not to fall victim to this danger.“

Unfortunately, once again it is primarily woman who fails .

Since she had lost her receptivity for the higher animistic substantiality she reached for feeling as a substitute. In order to make herself still believe that she is a woman she had to reach deeper into the world of feelings.

From this perspective it is actually more tolerable when the cool masculine intellect initially dominates on the earth until woman has re-built her connection to the high Animistic Substantiality in order to then lead man upwards again; this she can achieve only if she takes up her place in Creation and becomes Guardian of the Flames. However, to this end she must fundamentally transform herself.

If today, as is already the case in various places, only feeling- oriented people had the leadership on earth humanity would be even worse off than they have already for a long time been under the total domination of the intellect. For there is the great danger that they take their own truth as the only standard according to which they can act; in the firm conviction of thereby doing the right thing.

For this reason these people will produce many wrong forms which they have perpetuated for a long time already only because it appears at first to be more humane. Light happenings, on the other hand, they try to prevent. They do not recognize what has been influenced by the darkness for feeling can only orientate itself on what is earthly and in the earthly cloak dark and light look the same. Only the intuition succeeds in making a clear distinction.

If for some reason they feel their opinion threatened or their moral views disturbed, they use their intellect – guided by feeling – in a masterful way to condemn those who caused this, asserting that they strive to protect others from harm.

Using moral recriminations they do not shy away from defiling that which is intended by the Light. In the same way as Maria's conception through Kreolus was misrepresented by her environment as immoral. Grave errors arising from this are carried over into our present time and still characterize Christianity . (see „Past Eras Awaken“ series)

You, too, who have turned your back on the erstwhile Mountain of Salvation in the belief of thus serving Purity, have merely followed your feeling. You did not examine whether your decision was right. Following your feeling, like a herd of blind sheep, you were merely followers. And you who stayed on the Mountain, do you by any chance think that you stand closer to the Light if you look down upon those? You thereby provided the opportunity to feed your leaders' ambition for power. This is how it was possible for two camps to form out of the former Grail movement of the Mountain. However neither side has the right to claim to be close to the Light for you are worth no more than any other form of church with the only difference that you use the Grail Message , often hypocritically, to your own purposes. Consider that it was your own wish to once again make the Mountain into the „Mountain of Salvation“. And this happened only because of the many people who came to the Mountain with great longing. And at a certain hour the Light found entrance again.

Yet, just as woman failed and continues to fail, even with the knowledge of the Message, since she knows how to use her vanity even there, your leaders have failed in the same way.

It is due to the fact that the darkness directed its entire focus on them. All it need to do was to whisper to them of their own value thus feeding their vanity and you provided the breeding ground since you wanted to see them as being more than they were.

Your leaders hoped to be well served by a sound relation between their intuition – which, however, to judge by their actions, could only be feelings – and their rational intellect. How could you believe this and let it happen. Now the Light has been withdrawn from the Mountain once again and a connection is possible only at the hour of the Holy Festivals as it is anywhere on earth where people open themselves to it. This situation now remains as it is until you either find yourselves again or you perish by your obstinacy.

Had your intuition still been awake you would have followed neither one nor the other and the Mountain would have become what It is supposed to be.

„This was the test for all of you“.

What actually happened on the Mountain from the ethereal and spiritual perspective, however, has been laid down in a special writing which has been ready for a long time and will be made available as soon as you will be ready to recognize your failure.

The time has now come to form a worldwide band of radiation.

The cosmic clock keeps on ticking and your earth will soon be connected again, after a short period of standstill. After the failure at the time of IMANUEL this time had been pre-designated so as to allow you one more time to make your decision. Either you are in a position to help hold the earth or it will, as described frequently, perish together with you; it is entirely up to you. Such are the words resounding through the cosmos.

„If you fail the world will fall“

The power not to fail is available to you, but you must make use of it yourselves. The Light only holds out a hand to you if you rush toward it. Do not believe that the Light will approach you and save you if only you faithfully read the Message. You must seek further and ever further.

IMANUEL has firmly anchored his „Call“ to you on earth but you must find Him yourselves for only through Him do you receive the necessary power to unmask the snares of the darkness.

You will then experience bliss of the highest order. But do not think of it as earthly happiness for such is not meant for you. Spiritual happiness will be yours; happiness that does not ask for anything earthly but accepts only what is offered; and it will always be enough if only your paths are the right ones, even though you may sometimes think that you do not have enough to subsist on earth. If you fulfill your task and as long as you have earthly needs those will always be taken care of. Just do not make caring for your earthly livelihood the center of your activity, for you would risk being distracted.

Many of you need a period of deprivation for your spiritual maturity. The darkness cunningly knows to provide you with material affluence and honors so as to keep you away from your task since your position would require too much of your attention. Renounce where you have already received enough. And if you are given much think of the law that obligates wealth to be used only in the sense of the Light which it is to serve.

If you are not able to do this it will be better for you to live a modest life.

Read the history of ORORUN and your eyes will see what humanity will face in the near future. Bear in mind, however, that you are still in a position to turn destiny around.

Just as the kings and priests of Atlantis led the people astray the leaders of your Grail movements do the same today. And deep down they have known for a long time that what they did was wrong. Yet their ambition and their vanity drive them to hold up what is wrong, just as religious leaders have always done. They cannot go back since the structure they have built together with you would then collapse. It is now up to you to bring about change.

Read what ORORUN announced in the book of Atlantis.

For decades these warnings were given, but then it happened overnight.

At that time there were the kings, the priests and the people.

Without examining the Atlantans followed the king and the priests even though these knew better. But no one dared resist the leaders for fear of being considered renegade. The people, however, did not care as long as they were well fed.

Observe the parallels. Today your leaders, you who were permitted to recognize the Word, and humanity are facing the same fate.

Be mindful of your thoughts and actions. You have more influence on humanity than you think, for it radiates back to humanity.

The good intention of protecting the earth from exploitation through so-called progress is propounded everywhere but everyone thinks that someone else should take the lead. As soon as transformation has occurred they want to be part of it but until then they see to it that their own material security is safeguarded. That is the current situation almost everywhere.

Crossbearers and confessors of the Message – your actions with regard to the Light are just as questionable. You are waiting for the transformation so as to jump onboard and proudly proclaim that you have already known the Truth for a long time.

But be assured that humanity will punish you for this since they did not see that you lived according to the Message, but that you have up until now acted just like any other „sect“.

You have no idea how you affected the ethereal world and what you are now co-responsible for. It is certain that in recognition of the Word you are to a greater or lesser degree bearers of the power whether or not you want to be.

This is also the reason why, with the same hypocrisy, governments, parliaments and other organizations appear to work toward preventing the earth from being poisoned and plundered while making conditions more and more humane. Some people recognize the hypocrisy but their voices are lost in the noise of affluence. Nobody recognizes as yet how, through the world of human feelings and controlled by the intellect, everything is being played into the hands of the darkness.

One has the impression that a wave of humanitarianism is slowly sweeping over society . But what is happening in reality is this: the darkness protects its own products under the cloak of humanitarianism, helped by a certain emotional type of person. The type that ostentatiously wallows in modesty. The humility they demonstrate is mostly guided by the intellect and dominated by feelings of self-importance. The urge toward leniency in everything so as to lay a foundation for giving free reign to their own feelings is particularly prevalent among pious or socially conscious people. They call it humanitarianism. They are weaklings without energy but consumed by vanity, the only thing that still motivates them.

They take their fragility for a high degree of sensitivity and they obtain their conviction of doing the right thing from their demon, the intellect

In the material world their intentions and actions at first show humane outcomes which affords them great influence.

This is due to the fact that the strongest powers of attraction lie in the weaknesses which in turn have the strongest reciprocal effects since the most intense moments of an experience lie especially in the weaknesses.

A consciousness that has developed on this foundation, however, must succumb to disintegration as it is not of the spirit.

The majority of humanity today identifies with this type of consciousness, including the most humanitarian people. They have buried their intuition because their feelings gave them other values which seemed more desirable. Values that do not conform to the Creation Laws but lead to softness in accordance with a principle developed by the darkness. Even Lucifer has great contempt for such behavior although he himself is responsible for it.

Learn at last to distinguish between feeling and your intuition. The intuition liberates you from your false ,ego“, your feeling , however, ties you firmly to it.

A truly sensitive person has an inwardly stable personality and knows that in any situation his own feeling is under control. Such a person attracts attention by being reflective and genuinely humble. He is able to see the world not only through his own eyes but also through the eyes of others.

True sensitivity will always manifest as the clear perception of any situation
As well as in the radiation of strength and dignity of spirit.

Today the person is considered normal whose feelings are always controlled by the intellect and the intellect is always controlled by his feelings . They are held in high esteem and possess enormous intellectual pride. The intellect, however, is always demanding recognition and often seeks his strength in an attitude of knowing better.

An intuitive person, on the other hand, controls intellect and feeling in equal measure with his spirit. His actions will never be soft and weak, permissive, i.e. heavily feeling-oriented, rather they will be marked by clear severity and justness.

This is how the normal human being should be today.

But at this time the earth is inhabited almost exclusively by people of the feeling-oriented type alongside those of the intellect-oriented type.

The intellect-oriented types present themselves as stronger in the gross-material world whereas the feeling-oriented types have a stronger effect in the ethereal world since they have access to the power of the intuition thus forming stronger magnetic fields which in turn affect those who are intellect-oriented. Basically, the spirit and the intuition provide the energy for everything.

What the intellect was once meant to be to the spirit, feeling was meant to be for the intuition: a tool to be used for life on earth. Just as the intellect seeks to surround the apathetic spirit with an impenetrable wall so as to use its power to dominate, the feeling now seeks in the same way to utilize the power of the intuition.

This evil now pervades all interpersonal human life as well as all social structures and all religions.

Is it any wonder that this danger has been lurking for a long time already in the quiet hours of your prayers. Here too the feeling now threatens to overshadow the intuition for the reason that feeling has a very strong effect on the material level and is initially recognized more clearly by a person. Most of the time an inner thrill does therefore not originate in the intuitive sense which does not feel but „is“. The intuitive sense will push aside anything personal which includes feeling or emotion. If your prayer is alive in your spirit feeling no longer plays any role for feelings are alien to the spirit. The spirit is able to recognize Life and to become conscious of self and as a natural consequence this will guide it in constant humility and modesty.

Therefore take heed of the advice: „The less highly you think of yourself the better able is the living power to penetrate you“.

Your wrongly developed sense of ego acts as a wall preventing you from receiving the power with adequate consciousness. However, man needs this power to become spiritually awake so as to realize that he is a part of the whole which automatically leads him to Love; to love for the wonderful Creation and to true humility which promotes gratitude.

But this kind of love is foreign to man. He only knows the kind of love that piles up in him because he holds on to it rather than letting it flow. This love then demands fulfilment thus triggering the covetous feeling. True love experiences constant fulfilment since true love flows, evenly and pure as crystal. It remains free since it is never tied to anything personal.

The issue of love between two people has been particularly calamitous for a long time. This love is guided almost exclusively by feeling and at this time it is where humanity on earth presents the most egregious picture.

It is strange but it appears as if the majority of all people have only been waiting to be able to give free reign to their feelings especially in this area. If only they could perceive the ethereal events they would be horrified. The fact that you are not able to do so serves as your protection for if you could realize what occurs only for a moment you would be robbed of any hope for salvation. You have sunk so low. Especially on this point you must learn at last to take the step toward physical union only when it is not motivated by the desire for personal gratification but when both have the inner desire not to sully the other through covetous desire. Only then can your union be pure and both will receive the fulfillment of what they wish to give to the other.

If this is not the basis of any union you will soon be tortured by mutual pain. Mistrust and jealousy will be your companions. But it is also the craving for entertainment and diversion which stems from a desire for moments of true intimacy that will catch up with you and keep you in doubt unless the gate to the Light has already been closed to you. Only if this has already happened, will you be able to continue to live as you do until you will realize upon your death, how ignoble your conduct has been. Whether you will then have enough time to free yourselves from this quagmire, however is highly uncertain.

Feeling-controlled emotions have become the worst plague of humanity raging worse than even the dominance of the intellect. This development was possible only because of human self assessment of their own inner worth in the experiencing of the disastrous world of feeling.

The admonition not to give control to your intellect unfortunately did not make you realize, at the same time, where the intellect meanwhile has come to exert its greatest influence.

The intellect was thus able to pull along the feeling and make it subservient so that the latter became independent of the intuition and became characterized by a strong egoism. That is why feeling firmly binds one to the false „ego“, genuine intuition, on the other hand, frees one from it.

Imagine a picture before your eyes:

A magnificent sunrise.

The warming light of the rising sun makes the morning dew burst into bright colorful patterns accompanied by the lovely song of birds, while a softly gurgling creek winds its way through the underbrush offering to the world some of the morning coolness. But inexorably the sunny rays push the cool wetness up over the tall grasses forming bizarre, misty shapes which the softly murmuring wind drives through the fluttering green of the treetops. From time to time and barely audible, a drop of dew falls back into the running creek and sounds like a refreshing wake-up call of Nature. You stand in the middle of this happening. It flows through you letting you sense another, true „ego“ which, although personal, is free of vain egotism. For a brief moment you experience the intuitive sensation of wanting to share this experience with the whole world.

However, if you wonder whether others are able to perceive this wondrous experience, or if you even feel, with pity, that you are above them, then you have already succumbed to the arrogant world of feeling.

With the help of this world of feeling Lucifer re-builds and expands his sphere of influence forming his dominion in the world of densest matter which he intends to recapture completely after his liberation. It is possible that the Light will no longer prevent this from happening for the human spirit that has not used all his strength to flee from this too dense world will be cut off from any connection with the Light. It can then no longer be called a spirit but it will be a dark entity completely dependent on and at the mercy of Lucifer.

The spirit germ itself, however, detaches itself under unspeakable agony from this demon of his which it thoughtlessly provided with energy thus bringing it to life.

This demon then manifests itself as a lower being which belongs into the realm of darkness. These remaining creatures obtained their consciousness through the lower world of feeling but were nourished by the spirit. Whether their world is sustainable will remain a mystery. From the part of the Light no further effort will be made on behalf of this dark world. It will be left to its own devices farther and farther away from Life and it will disappear into the darkness. By far the majority of humanity on earth already belongs to this realm since their spirits have become too weak.

On your earth which has fallen so low genuine intuition is possible only with the utmost energy expenditure by the spirit if it is to have any influence on the dense body. But it is more likely that a scream of despair in recognition of what was neglected can shake the majority out of their lethargy and it is doubtful whether they will still have enough energy left to save themselves.

Man of today lives in an illusion for he owes his consciousness for the most part only to the intellect and to feeling. This demon no longer has to perish together with the brain but as a product of the spirit is even now able to continue to exist independently as long as there are people who transmit to it the living neutral power. These beings will inhabit the planes which no longer receive any energy from the Light. They are still drawing their energy from the human spirit but soon they will be cut off and will survive only through Lucifer himself.

But Lucifer also draws his power from his origin and assumably this part will have to be withdrawn in the same way and only the spirit will remain which in self-will once chose his own paths.

Abandoned by the Light, further and further removed, he will descend into deepest darkness together with everything that is attached to him. The image is like that of a submarine which goes down while still equipped with life-sustaining oxygen but without the slightest possibility of ever emerging again.

You human spirits were given thousands of years to mature, but for too long you have allowed Lucifer to control you. With his fettering you received the possibility to liberate yourselves. However, there will be a time when he will be released again and you will then have to have matured spiritually so as to return to the origin of your being, whence you once started out.

The earthly span of time of the Kingdom of the Millenium, which originally was prophesied by the Light as the Kingdom of Peace, now seems to have become the final period of grace for you. For these thousand years the greatest help was intended for you by the Light . Yet, due to your failure, this Light had to leave your world again and now it is a time of pain and of separation. What will become of you is now entirely up to you. Billions of human spirits still want to pass through the water gate of your dense, hardened materiality. But only a few have the strength to succeed. For those few, however there will be a world of lighter matter in which they may continue to mature if their souls are free of evil vices.

You, who still bear hope within, let go of anything that can bind you and remember the admonition you were once given to utilize the world of gross matter but never to regard it as your home.

There will indeed be a new Kingdom on earth but it will have different forms, forms that are unimaginable today.

In this connection the Lord spoke the following words: (Lecture „The Child“, Grail Message 1941)

„The new kingdom, the Kingdom of God on earth, will create equilibrium and with it a new generation. But before it can be understood, force will have to be used to bring about the right conception of equilibrium. It will bring it about forcibly by remodelling all that is distorted, a process which is already taking place, because all that is false and unhealthy must run itself to death, urged on by the invincible power and force of the Light. Then will follow the gift of the true conception of all the primordial Laws of Creation. Strive to recognize them correctly already now, and you will stand aright in this Creation. This in turn will result in bringing you nothing but happiness and peace!“

And for you He added the words: (Lecture „A New Law“, Resonances to the Grail Message 1934)

„For this reason the work of the called ones in the service to the Holy Grail is not to focus on correcting mankind's old mistakes of the past, but their entire activity and thinking in their intuitive perception must be aimed at a fundamentally new upbuilding!

Simply let the old collapse, because according to the Will of God, the old is not to be improved upon and changed, but everything must become new!”

These were the words of Abd-ru-shin.

Do not think now that though you will gladly fulfill the Words, they were nonetheless once given to others, a long time ago.

Today, then, you will finally learn what has happened so that you will know what you need to do.

The Son of Man was able to fulfill only part of His Mission, that is to bring the Truth, i.e. the Creation Laws, to humanity, as well as bring enlightenment about the life of Jesus Christ.

He did that as Abd-ru-shin.

But His Missions were:

1. As „Parsifal“ He was to bring the Word to humanity before the Final Judgment. He fulfilled this mission
2. As Imanuel He was to bring the Judgment and ,after fulfillment, to initiate the Kingdom of the Millenium.

For the first mission there was no need of help by humanity, i.e. by the 144,000 Called Ones. He was able to fulfill this mission on His own. Its main purpose was to call the Called Ones.

The second Mission, the establishment of the Kingdom of the Millenium,required the help of the Called Ones. In order to establish the Kingdom it was absolutely necessary, according to the Laws, for the protective ring around IMANUEL to stand imperturbable. Without this protective ring and under the influence of the now Divine Power the human spiritual would have burnt up. It was the task of the High Called Ones to receive this Divine Power , process it and transmit it to humanity. Instead, having succumbed to the intellect, they transmitted most of the processed Power to Lucifer's minions.

This, however, they realized only when they returned to the ethereal realm. Their remorse was great.

Thus it happened that the necessary protective ring collapsed. IMANUEL withdrew and with Him all callings were withdrawn.

A grievous chapter in the history of mankind, in no way less significant than the history of Golgatha. Initially the earth was lost.

But IMANUEL, while ascending, saw a few small spirit flames which did not deserve to perish for their longing was still very much alive.

Only for the sake of justice a lifeline was to remain:

The „Grail Message of last hand“/

His second Mission could not be fulfilled just as Jesus was not able to fulfill His Mission completely because of the failure of the called people of the time. When He realized this He spoke of the coming of the Son of Man.

Upon this same realization Abd-ru-shin gave His Message the form now necessary for man to survive the Judgment. Its immediate purpose was no longer the upbuilding of the Kingdom of the Millenium.

While the Judgment is now raging and the darkness, at the same time, tries all in its power to maintain calm, the Called Ones are incarnated again in order to be confronted with the same decision, only this time without the direct presence of IMANUEL. It is their duty to listen to His call again which is contained only in the text of the original Message. The „Grail Message of last hand“ served as the signpost to it.

Thus, whether or not a Thousand-year Kingdom will be established depends on these human spirits who are now, after the failure, firmly tied to the earth and their task.

They now have been given the opportunity, under more difficult conditions, to prepare the Kingdom so as to make its establishment within the time frame of Lucifer's captivity, possible after all.

The earth was put into a kind of holding pattern by allowing, for the time being, a state of increased inertia. This even though it is said that „the point in time is already determined in the beginning.“

Point in time refers to a specific point in the cosmos which Ephesus, of which our earth is a part, must reach at some point. Although the term time is employed here, it does not mean time as measured on earth. This is too intellectual an interpretation, for only the intellect knows earthly timetables. The prophecy came from the Spiritual realm and was not directed to the intellect, just as much of the Message is not. From this perspective, man can never prevent anything but he can merely influence his own course of time which, however, changes nothing in the great happening. On the subject of time Abd-ru-shin gives clear explanations in His Message from which we can conclude that it is not possible from the Spiritual realm to specify a definite earthly point in time, since time is subject to continual adaptation and change.

Spiritually, time is measured in terms of capacity to experience, not by the course of the stars.

Thus, at the time when the raging darkness has run its course and the earth moves again on its intended path, it will reach the point in time of which it is written that it was determined from the beginning. To this end, however, the earth must be transformed and become more luminous as well as lighter.

At the present time we are in the process of this transformation, aided by the power of the comet; and the progression of time will thereby be restored to normal.

It is now up to you to make the establishment of a Kingdom of the Millennium in the original sense possible; it is your responsibility. The Light only provides the possibility.

For this time human spirits have been prepared to receive messages from the highest heights. From time to time, for the upbuilding, one of them will stand under the influence of Parsifal-Immanuel.

You, however, must build a light net reaching far beyond the earth whereupon you will be connected for the purpose of mutual exchange of energy. From time to time you may also unite in the material world, but basically, everyone should work by himself, on his own, in the Light.

When this band of radiations stands solid and secure then, in due course, Primordially Created Ones will again be placed directly at your side. At the present time, however, none of them steps onto the earth since it is too dense and too dark and a connection downward is possible only via the human spiritual. However, should the ring not be closed again the earth will be abandoned to its own devices.

However, souls that do not deserve to be abandoned, in so far as there will be any remaining on the planet earth, which is rather unlikely, will then be taken away.

This period of grace will remain as long as Lucifer is fettered after which time help from the Light will be withdrawn.

Strive now to understand what you read here and probe within your soul in what way and to what extent you, too, belong in this happening.

Do not think of all this too much in your present earthly way.
